A MESSAGE FROM PREMIER DOUG FORD

I would like to extend a warm welcome to all the students, community leaders, and present and future health professionals taking part in MedX Conference 2026

It's great to see so many young people interested in exploring careers in health care. Our youth are the next generation of leaders, thinkers and changemakers. That's why it's so important to empower them and provide them with opportunities to reach their full potential.

My thanks to the energetic and dedicated team behind Dr. Interested for putting together this youth-oriented learning and networking event. As our population ages we will need tens of thousands of new graduates in health, as well as science and technology.

Our government is investing in the future of the sector by supporting the next generation of doctors, nurses, paramedics and lab technicians through initiatives like the Ontario Learn and Stay Grant. It removes financial barriers for students while helping ensure more highly skilled health-care professionals work in the communities that need them most.

My best wishes for a productive and inspiring conference.
